

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: July 23, 2026

Angeion Group, LLC (“Angeion Group,” “we,” “us” or “our”) respects your privacy online and are committed to protecting your privacy. This Privacy Policy (“Policy”) explains how we collect, use, disclose and protect the personal information (as defined below) of our users (including but not limited to class members, claimants, and other participants of a class action settlement process) when they visit our website or mobile sites (collectively, the “Site”). It also applies to all personal information collected by us when we administer class action settlements; and when we otherwise interact with you by email, telephone or otherwise (collectively, the “Services”).

Please read the following Policy to understand how information collected during your interaction with the Site and Services will be treated. By using the Site and the Services, you agree to the collection, use, and disclosure of personal information in accordance with this Policy. If you do not agree with this Policy, then you are not authorized to use the Site or Services. This Policy applies only to the information collected about you through the Site or provided to us by a third party and/or affiliate under your direction and/or control or otherwise via the Services. It does not apply to information collected via other channels or other websites that are owned or operated by affiliate organizations on which this Policy is not posted.

Personal Information We Collect

In this Policy, “personal information” means any information about an identifiable individual. When you use our Services and visit our Site, we may collect or receive personal information about you to provide our Services and operate our business.

Automatic Information We Collect. When you visit the Site, we automatically collect information about the internet protocol (IP) address from which you access the Site, the pages you visit, the date and time you access our Site, and the type of browser and operating system that you are using. The information we compile is used to enhance your experience when using the Site to display personalized content.

Information You Provide to Us. We may collect certain information you provide to us directly and/or indirectly through a third party as per your authorization and/or control when using the Site, such as, but not limited to, your name, address, telephone numbers, mailing address, banking information for use in electronic payments, e-mail address and interests.

Information from Third-Party Clients. We receive personal information about you from our third-party clients, including law firms for which we provide, inter alia, settlement administration and related services. Information we receive from third-party clients is not governed by this Policy.

How We Collect Information

Automatic Information Collection Information

Collected by Cookies and Other Technologies. A “cookie” is a small file placed on your device when you visit a site that can be understood by the site that issued the cookie. We use cookies and other technologies, including device identifiers, to collect information and support certain features of the Site. For example, we may use these technologies to:

- 1) Collect information about the ways visitors use the Site—for example, which pages they visit, which links they use, and how long they stay on each page;
- 2) Support the features and functionality of the Site—for example, to save you the trouble of re-entering information already in our database or to prompt the settings you established on previous visits;
- 3) Personalize your experience when you use the Site and Services; and
- 4) Improve our marketing efforts, including using targeted advertising as further described in this Policy.

The information we collect using cookies and similar technologies may or may not be used to identify you, but we may link it to personal information that you provide or is otherwise collected during your use of the site. If you do not wish to receive cookies, you may set your browser to reject cookies or to alert you when a cookie is placed on your computer. Although you are not required to accept cookies when you visit the Site, you may be unable to use all functionality of the Site if your browser rejects our cookies, including the ability to submit a claim if all cookies are rejected.

Information Provided by You

E-Mail Content and Newsletters. You may choose to provide us with personal information in an e-mail message to one of the addresses listed throughout the Site or by submitting your information in the “Contact” section of the Site.

We use this information to respond to your message or to register you for the Services you have requested. We may also use this information to market or promote relevant Services to you, in compliance with applicable laws. If you sign up for an e-mail newsletter, you have the option to unsubscribe at any time. Any information you choose to provide regarding special interests may be used for marketing and promotional purposes. By providing this information, you may receive occasional e-mail messages from us.

Job Applications. We may collect certain personal information you provide to us when applying for a job on the Site, including, but not limited to your name, address, telephone numbers, mailing address, and e-mail address. Information collected in the application process is excluded from the personal information described throughout this Policy.

Additional Sources of Information. You may provide additional information to us when you request information or an estimate for our Services. We may receive this information from you through email, the Site, or by phone.

How We Use Information

We use your personal information to provide you Services, enhance your experience on the Site, improve our Services, and market and provide promotional activities. For more details about how we use information, please see below.

Use of Information You Provide to Us. Generally, we may use information you provide to us through the Site:

- To provide the information, products and Services including the administration of the class action settlements;
- To initiate electronic payments;
- For security or fraud prevention purposes;
- To provide you user service;
- To provide you with a personalized experience when you use the Site and Services;

- To contact you with information and notices related to your use of the Site and Services;
- To better understand your needs and interests;
- To improve the content, functionality and usability of the Site;
- To improve our products and Services;
- To improve our marketing and promotional activities; and
- For any other purpose identified in an applicable privacy notice, click-through agreement, or other agreement between you and us.

Please see below for information about the choices you have about the ways we use your personal information.

Use of Aggregated Information. We may use information gathered through the Site to create a compiled, aggregate view of the Site's audiences and its visitors' usage patterns. We use aggregated information to operate our Services and to better understand our audience as we develop new products and Services. We may also share aggregated information with our third-party service providers as well as with potential investors, advertisers, vendors, and subscribers so they can better understand and/or market to our audience but such aggregated information will not contain your personal information in a manner that can identify you.

Third-Party Cookies and Interest-Based Advertising

In addition to the cookies we deliver to your computer or mobile or tablet device through the Site, certain third parties may deliver cookies to you for a variety of reasons. We may also use cross-device targeting to help identify our users and serve advertising. This type of advertising is often called "interest-based" or "personalized" advertising—and when it occurs on mobile apps, "cross-app" advertising. For example, we currently use Google Analytics, a web analytics tool that helps us understand how visitors engage with the Site. To learn more about Google Analytics, click here.

To learn more about how Google uses data collected through partner sites or applications, click here. Other third parties may deliver cookies to your computer or mobile or tablet device for the purpose of tracking your online behaviors across non-affiliated websites and delivering targeted advertisements either on the Site or on other websites.

For detailed information about the cookies we use and the purposes for which we use them, please review our Cookie Policy. If you wish to opt out of cross device tracking for purposes of interest-based advertising, you may do so through your device settings.

Please note that even if you opt-out, you may still receive advertisements from us. However, the advertising will not be tailored to your interests. Also, we do not control any of the above opt-out links or whether any particular company chooses to participate in these opt-out programs.

Depending on your permissions, we may receive your personal information from your Internet service and mobile device providers. Users of mobile device who do not want to receive interest-based advertising may opt-out in several ways. You can learn more about your choices for mobile devices by visiting <http://www.aboutads.info/appchoices>. Each operating system, (iOS for Apple phones, Android for Android devices, and Windows for Microsoft devices) provides its own instructions on how to prevent the delivery of tailored in-application advertisements. You should view your device or system "Settings" to determine how you can opt out of use of your device ID for "cross-app" personalized advertising.

Third-Party Data Sharing and Disclosure

Compliance with Law or Protection of Rights. We may disclose your personal information when we, in good faith, believe disclosure is appropriate to comply with applicable law, a court order, or a subpoena. We may also disclose your personal information to prevent or investigate a possible crime such as fraud or identity theft; to protect the security of the Site; to enforce or apply any applicable terms of use or other agreements; or to protect our own rights or property or the rights, property, or safety of our users or others.

Business Negotiations. We may contemplate, for strategic or other reasons, selling, buying, merging, amalgamating or otherwise reorganizing one or more of our businesses. In negotiating with a third party about entering into such an arrangement, we may need to disclose your personal information. In such cases, we will take reasonable measures, including as required by law, to protect the personal information we disclose. For example, we may do so by requiring a prospective purchaser to sign a non-disclosure agreement limiting the use and protecting the confidentiality of the personal information.

Business Transfers. We may transfer the personal information you submit on or through the Site to a buyer or other successor in the event of a merger, amalgamation, divestiture, transfer of control, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of our assets, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding. In this case, personal information held by us about the Site's users could be transferred with other assets.

Vendors. Angeion Group may from time to time retain third-party vendors in order to help us manage the Site and allow us to better serve our visitors and users. These may include third-party vendors we engage to analyze the information we collect for marketing or similar purposes. We may contract with third parties who use cookies to collect information on our behalf. These parties maintain their own confidentiality and security standards. If you would like to opt out of this use of your information, you can change the preferences of your browser so that it does not accept cookies as discussed above. We may contract with companies or others to provide certain Services, including payment services, data management, promotional services, etc. We provide these service providers with the information they need to perform these Services and use reasonable efforts, including contractual protections, to require these third-party vendors and service providers treat your personal information securely and in accordance with this Policy.

We may also share personal information to third-party vendors to help us provide you Services. For example, we use Amazon Web Services as a hosting provider. Such vendors have access to personal information for a limited purpose and for a limited period, and we implement contractual protections limiting the use of that personal information to the provision of Services to us.

Your Choices

In General. We respect your right to make choices about the ways your personal information is collected and used. For example, we will include instructions to unsubscribe from communications in each electronic newsletter or promotional e-mail we send you.

Unsubscribe from Newsletters or Promotional Communications. We want to provide you information that is valuable to you. If at any time you wish to be taken off our mailing lists, please follow the unsubscribe instructions included in our communications to you, contact us by e-mail at support@angeiongroup.com, or send us written notice via mail at the address listed below. Please provide your full name, postal address, and e-mail address so that we can find you on our mailing lists. Once we have the information we need, we will remove you from our mailing lists as you have requested. Please give us a reasonable amount of time to honor your request.

Opt-Out Links. We do not control how third parties use your information. You can opt-out of certain third-party activities at the links below. To opt-out of Google Analytics, please visit: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage...> To opt-out of certain ad functions, please visit: <https://youradchoices.com/cont...>

Do Not Track Mechanisms. We do not support Do Not Track. Do Not Track is a preference you can set in your web browser to inform websites that you do not want to be tracked. Because of the changing state of technology and indecision within the industry regarding the meaning of Do Not Track signals, we currently do not make any guarantee that we will honor Do Not Track signals. You can enable or disable DNT by visiting the Preferences or Settings page of your web browser.

Third-Party Links

Links to Other Websites. The Site contains links to other websites. We encourage all our partners, contributors, and third parties to implement policies and practices that respect the privacy of our users; however, we are not responsible for the privacy practices or content of such websites or activities of our partners, contributors, and third parties in how they handle your data, including your personal information.

Social Media. We provide links on the Site to our third-party social media pages to provide you additional information and additional methods for communicating with us. We are not responsible for the privacy practices and/or content of such websites.

California Consumer Privacy Act and California Shine the Light Law

If you are a California resident, the California Consumer Privacy Act ("CCPA") California Civil Code 1798.83 permits you to request information regarding the disclosure of your personal information by certain of our members to third parties for the third parties' direct marketing purposes.

The CCPA gives you certain rights with respect to the processing of your personal data. Under the CCPA, you may request information about our collection, use, and disclosure of your personal information over the prior 12 months, and ask that we provide you with the following information:

- Categories of and specific pieces of personal information we have collected about you.
- Categories of sources from which we collect personal information.
- Purposes for collecting, using, or selling personal information.
- Categories of third parties with which we share personal information.
- Categories of personal information disclosed about you for a business purpose.

The CCPA also allows you to request that we delete your personal information, subject to certain exceptions. Under the CCPA, a "sale" means providing to a third-party personal information for valuable consideration. We have taken substantial steps to identify whether any of our data sharing arrangements would constitute a "sale" under the CCPA, and have maintained that we do not sell or rent personal information to unaffiliated third parties for their advertising or marketing lists.

To make a request regarding your personal data or other rights under this section, please send an email to support@angeiongroup.com.

Children's Privacy

Our Service does not address anyone under the age of majority ("Children").

We do not knowingly collect personal information from anyone under the age of majority. Minors may not use the Site without the permission of a parent or guardian. If you believe that a minor has submitted personal information on or through the Site without the consent and supervision of a parent or guardian, please contact us using the information provided below so that we can take appropriate action. If you are a parent or guardian and you are aware that your Children have provided us with personal information, please contact us. If we become aware that we have collected personal information from Children without verification of parental consent, we will take steps to remove that personal information from our servers.

This Policy May Change

This Policy describes Angeion Group's current policies and practices with regard to the personal information we collect through the Site. We review our privacy practices from time to time and as a result, this Policy may change. We reserve the right to update or modify this Policy at any time, without prior notice. We will notify you of any changes by posting the new Policy on this page. When this Policy changes, we will update the "Effective Date" at the top of this page. Be sure to check the date at the top of the page to see if this Policy has been revised since your last visit. You are advised to review this Policy periodically for any changes. Changes to this Policy are effective when they are posted on this page.

Your continued use of the Site and Services after we make any change is deemed to be your acceptance of these changes and it is your obligation to check this Policy periodically to ensure familiarity with the most current version of our Policy.

Canada Specific Terms

The following terms apply to users of the Site and Services in Canada.

Your Rights

This section lists the privacy-related rights ("Rights") that we extend to all of our users. Your right to know and right to deletion are not absolute and are subject to certain exceptions. For example, we cannot disclose specific pieces of personal information if the disclosure would create a substantial, articulable, and unreasonable risk to the security of the personal information, your account with us or the security of our systems.

- Right to Know – You have the right to know the personal information we collect, use, and disclose about you.
- Right to Deletion – You have the right to request that we delete any personal information we have collected from you or maintain about you. We may save personal information when permitted by applicable law including, without limitation, when the personal information is needed for a legal purpose.
- Right to Rectification – You may modify your personal information by contacting us by completing the form located at Annex A.

You can also request that we provide you with a copy of your personal information in a commonly used electronic format so that you can manage and move it.

Please note that we may ask you to verify your identity before responding to such requests.

For residents of the Province of Quebec, enhanced rights apply under Quebec privacy legislation. These rights include the right to access and correct personal information, the right to request deletion or de-indexing of personal information (often referred to as the “right to be forgotten”), the right to data portability in prescribed circumstances, and the right to request information about how their personal information is processed, including information related to automated decision-making, where applicable.

Asserting Your Rights

You may exercise your right to know or your right to deletion by contacting us by completing the form located at Annex B. We may ask you to verify your identity if you are contacting us through online chat, email, or phone. You may also designate an authorized agent to make a request to know or a request to delete. In order to be able to act, authorized agents have to submit proof that they are authorized to act on your behalf, or have a power of attorney. We may deny requests from authorized agents who do not submit proof that they have been authorized by you to act on their behalf.

You can request, in writing, that we correct an error or omission to your personal information or delete your personal information. We will endeavour to respond to written requests within thirty (30) days, or alternatively, the timeframe prescribed by the relevant legislation.

Transfer of Personal Information

Angeion Group is based in the United States and, regardless of where you use our Services the information collected as part of that use may be transferred to and maintained on servers located in the United States and elsewhere. Any personal information we obtain about you will be stored in accordance with Canadian and United States privacy laws, regulations, and standards, which may not be equivalent to the laws in your country of residence. As a result, this personal information may be subject to access requests from governments, courts, or law enforcement in those jurisdictions according to laws in those jurisdictions. Subject to applicable laws in such other jurisdictions, we will use reasonable efforts to ensure that appropriate protections are in place to require the data processor in that country to maintain protections on your personal information that are equivalent to those that apply to you. By using our Site and Services, you consent to this collection, transfer, storage, and processing of personal information to and in Canada or elsewhere, including the United States.

Angeion Group will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this Policy and no transfer of your personal information will take place to an organization or a country unless there are adequate controls in place including the security of your data and other personal information.

Electronic Communications

We want to provide you information that is valuable to you. As part of your sign-up process, you may have also opted in to receive future promotional electronic communications from us. If you opt-in to receive such communications, or as otherwise permitted by applicable Canadian law, we may use the personal information to: (i) communicate with you regarding our products, Services and promotions; (ii) provide you with other information that you request; and/or (iii) improve our product and service offerings. You will always have the opportunity to “unsubscribe” from receiving any of our e-mail or other communications at any time. If at any time you wish to unsubscribe from our mailing lists or otherwise, please follow the unsubscribe instructions included in our communications to you, or contact us by e-mail at support@angeiongroup.com or send us written notice via mail at the address listed below. If you decide to unsubscribe, we will only contact you thereafter: (i) for the purposes allowed under applicable Canadian law; (ii) to send you notices of changes to our Policy; and (iii) to receive service-related messages.
